Mr. Fred Malesa VP – International Intermodal BNSF Railway

Fred Malesa has been in the railroad business since his first job with the Union Pacific almost thirty years ago, and has worked in industrial equipment, consumer goods, regional sales management and forest products as well as equipment acquisition and innovative software applications. Come to this meeting and hear what this industry veteran has to say about the prospects for international trade through the Pacific Northwest and developments at the BNSF, one of the largest railroad networks in North America. One way or another, your business will be affected by what they do. And bring a guest. They will thank you!
